1. Work was in progress on extending the northwest jetty. At the same time the basin between the jetty and the northwest quay was being filled. Work was carried out on a 24-hour day basis.
2. It is planned to extend the northeast quay up to the junction with the eastern mole.
3. In the center of the port basin a floating crane was observed with 4-5 motor barges loaded with stones and cement.
4. At the western mole four coastal patrol vessels were berthed stern-to. On 11 February 1954 these vessels were at anchor between Magalonise Island (sic) and Sveti Anastas Island (N 42-28, E 27-33). the vessels were firing at a target on or near the shore. The target was not visible. The ships fired one round every five minutes.
